プロフィール

François PERCHET joined the World Nuclear University (WNU) in London in 2008, seconded from the French utility, EDF. There, he served also as senior Technical Advisor to the World Nuclear Association (WNA). In August 2013, his secondment reached its 5 year-long limit. He is currently in a pre-retirement position. His 36 year-long professional experience in the nuclear Industry with the French Utility EDF ranges from commissioning NPP in the late 1970's, to Operation, Maintenance and Safety management, holding various technical and managing positions at various NPPs and corporate offices. He worked for a few years in the USA (INPO, 1989-1991) and in China (Technical Advisor for CGN 2006-2008). At WNU, he served as mentor for the fellows at three WNU Summer Institutes, in Oxford. He is also a visiting lecturer at Imperial College of London. He graduated in 1976 from an Engineering School in France, "Ecole Supérieure d'électricité".
